

Jane Fawn Changes: (From the booklet Gifts of the Season)

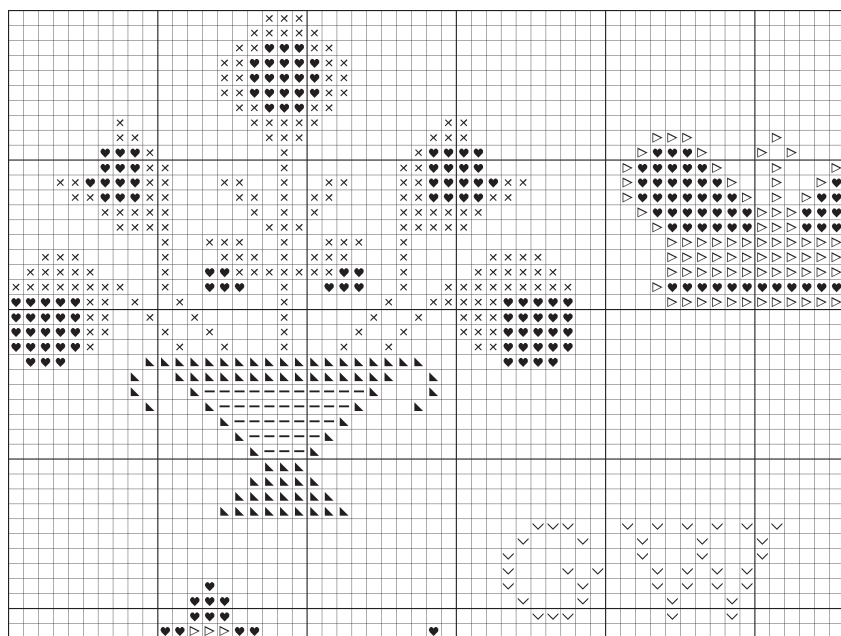

I'm stitching this large sampler, and I've noted some changes that need to be made to the chart. I will be posting the picture soon to Instagram so you can see how it is coming along. I will also send a picture to Pat for you all to see. I'm very sorry for the inconvenience to you all!

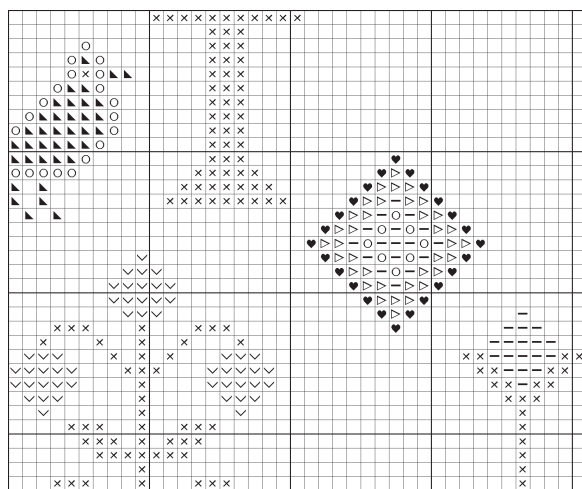

This correction is for the roof on the right side of the house.

No change is needed here....
just note the upper border count is irregular.

An incorrect symbol is used in the basket. Please note the correct one above. This basket is repeated adjacent to the crown on the opposite side.

An incorrect symbol is used in the border of the diamond motif. Please note the correct one above. This is repeated on the opposite side also.
